Tutoring Experience

With over 16 years of tutoring experience, I have worked extensively with students preparing for A-Level Spanish, helping them excel in language proficiency and cultural understanding. My teaching has included IB and IGCSE Spanish, where I've guided students to achieve fluency and success in exams.

Throughout my career, I've mentored students from diverse backgrounds, incorporating elements of Spanish history and literature into lessons. This holistic approach has helped students appreciate the language while developing their grammatical and conversational skills.

In addition to private tutoring, I've collaborated with international schools and language centres, tailoring my lessons to meet the demands of various curricula. My students have consistently achieved excellent grades, with many advancing to study Spanish at top universities worldwide.
