Tutoring Experience

Over the past 5 years, I've guided students through A-Level Chemistry, helping them tackle challenging topics such as reaction mechanisms and equilibrium. My expertise also extends to IB and IGCSE Chemistry, where I've supported learners in achieving excellent exam results.

In addition to private tutoring, I've collaborated with local schools in Denmark to assist students in mastering advanced chemistry concepts. My students consistently praise the clarity and depth of my lessons, with many pursuing further studies in science and engineering at top universities.
